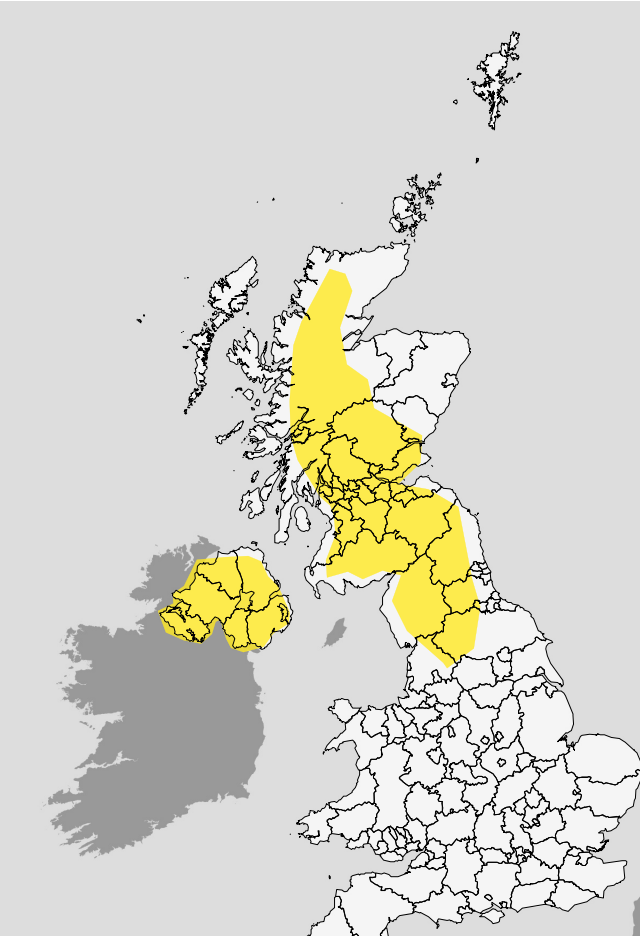
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
03:00 Sun 27 Dec 2020 and
15:00 Sun 27 Dec 2020



Icy surfaces are likely in many parts, with snow cover mainly in western Scotland, bringing difficult travel conditions

What to expect

- Some roads and railways likely to be affected meaning longer journey times.
- Icy patches likely on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths, leading to increased likelihood of accidents and injuries.

Further details

Following clearance of heavy rain this evening, colder conditions will lead to ice forming on untreated surfaces across many parts of the warning area.

There will also be showers which will turn increasingly to snow on high ground: parts of western Scotland look likely to see a few cm above about 200 m elevation, with a slight cover at low levels in heavier showers. Over Northern Ireland, southern Scotland and northern England, any snow cover will be mostly restricted to high level routes, above around 300m, where the odd cm may accumulate during Sunday.
